1 Part 2: Boarding the plane

(Busy sounds of passengers boarding the plane)

Woman: Excuse me, sir?

Mr Miller: Who? Me?

- 5 Woman: Yes, sir. Excuse me, I'm sorry to bother you but it looks like you are sitting in my seat.

Mr Miller: Oh, really? Let me check our boarding cards ...

(Rustling in his travel bag.)

Mr Miller: Hmm, where are they ... just a moment.

- 10 Woman: Sure, no hurry.

Mr Miller: Ah, here they are. Let me just check ... Here, please take a look, my wife and I have seats 21D and 21E. Which seat do you have?

Woman: Oops, that's strange. My seat number is 21E, too!

Mr Miller: This is very strange. It must be the airline's mistake!

- 15 Woman (sighing): It must be! Wait a moment, I'm just going to ask the flight attendant.

(Some time passes.)

Du: My school day was OK. In the morning I had a test in English, which went well. I'm having a late lunch now and I'm going to meet my friends at the shopping mall later.

Jessy: You're sooo lucky that you're already done with school for this week! My friend's having a sleepover party at her house tonight. Not sure if I'll go though. I don't feel well. What are your plans for the weekend?

Du: My family is invited to my aunt's wedding on Sunday. I need a new dress for it, so that's why I'm going to the mall later.

Jessy: Sounds great! You know, it's going to be so much fun once you come over to stay with us! By the way, my mom wants to know if there is any food that you don't like???

Du: Thank your mom for asking! Honestly, I don't really like meat. I prefer vegetables and milk products. My mom showed me how to make a really great dish with potatoes, vegetables and cheese in the oven. If you like, I could show you how to make this when I am in Canada.

Jessy: Sounds yummy! Anything else you'd like to know?

Du: When I stay with your family, am I going to have my own room or am I going to share it with you? Do you think I could also go to a language course? I really want to improve my English.

Is there a pool close to your house? I love swimming!

As a present for your parents I could bring some of my aunt's home-made honey. Do you think they would like that?

Jessy: Sorry! Have to get back to you later on all of that. We just arrived at school. Bye!

Dear (aunt) Emily,

Best wishes from Johannesburg! I'm here with mum and dad. This place is fantastic/great! The weather is hot and sunny and I'm feeling good/fantastic/great/wonderful/a bit tired because of the heat/ ...

This is what we've already done in our holidays:

After arriving in Cape Town we spent a couple of days at a hotel at the beach. We also went sightseeing and shopping in the city, but the best

Aufgabe 3

🔪 Hinweis: Sieh dir den Werbespot an. Welche Personen kommen vor? Mit welchem Problem wird der Mann konfrontiert? Wie löst er das Problem? Ist der Spot ernst oder humorvoll? An welche Zielgruppe könnte er sich richten? Wozu wird der Zuschauer (indirekt) aufgefordert?

Beispiellösung:

Scene description: In the video you see a father carrying his little daughter to the car. When they have almost reached the car, the girl shows her father that her doll has lost a shoe. This makes the father go back over the hot sand to pick it up.

- a) He desperately wants to reach his car because he is walking barefoot on hot sand and carrying his daughter as well as lots of beach equipment. He is suffering because of his heavy load, and because the hot sand and the pebbles on the car park make his feet hurt.
- b) The doll has lost its shoe on the way from the beach to the car. It is now lying somewhere in the hot sand.
- c) The father is unhappy because he realizes that he will have to go back to fetch the shoe, but when his daughter looks at him hopefully, he knows he has got to go back.
- d) Yes, the father behaves like a superhero because first he has to walk on the hot sand to take his daughter and the beach equipment to the parking lot, and then he turns around again to go back to fetch the doll's shoe. He also doesn't leave his daughter by the car but takes her with him to get the shoe. When he turns around to go down the beach again, the wind blows up the beach towel that is wrapped around his neck, making it look like the cape of a superhero.
- e) The message behind the car being "for real superheroes" probably refers to parents who would do anything for their family and children. These parents are the ones who deserve this car, which is only for special people. While a superhero from a comic is a fictional character with supernatural powers (e.g. Batman, Spiderman, etc.) a "real" superhero according to this video clip is the ordinary, loving father, who does everything for his child.

Aufgabe 4

🔪 Hinweis: Hier findest du eine Beispiellösung zu jedem Stichwort in der Mindmap. In der Prüfung musst du jedoch nur drei Stichpunkte wählen und dazu deinen Vortrag halten. Vergiss nicht, deinem Vortrag eine Struktur zu geben, z. B. folgendermaßen: "My topic is ...", "The keywords I've chosen are ...", "I'll start with ..."

A Hör- und Hörsehverstehen

Aufgabe 1

1 Flight Captain: Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. This is captain Tom McBrain speaking.

I'd like to inform you that the arrival of our flight, BS389 in Gibraltar will be delayed by about 15 minutes because of the bad weather we had half an hour
5 after our departure from London Heathrow. So, our time of arrival will be about four forty-five pm.

That was the bad news I had to tell you, and now the good news.

As you might already know, Gibraltar Airport is not the easiest airport at which to land. There are often strong cross-winds which the pilot has to deal with.
10 In the past, some aircraft have had to travel on to Malaga, but today we're lucky. There's hardly any wind. The weather is calm and dry, so we expect a smooth landing.

At the moment, the temperature in Gibraltar is 21 degrees Celsius, which is 15 69.8 degrees Fahrenheit. We will start our descent soon and will be landing shortly. If you take a look outside on the right of our aircraft as we approach for landing, you might be able to see the famous Monkey Rock and another frequently visited sight in Gibraltar, the Europa Point Lighthouse, which is the southernmost lighthouse in Europe.

Ladies and gentlemen, please return to your seats now, fasten your seat belts
20 and make sure that the tables in front of you are in an upright position ...

🔪 Hinweis: Für jede vollständig richtige Lösung bekommst du hier einen Punkt. Du musst nicht in ganzen Sätzen antworten.

1. (at) 4:45 (pm) / four forty-five (pm / in the afternoon)

🔪 Hinweis: Z. 5 f.

A Hör- und Hörsehverstehen

♣ Allgemeiner Hinweis: *Da die Aufgaben dem Aufbau des Hörtextes folgen, können sie der Reihe nach beantwortet werden. Du hörst alle Hörtexte immer jeweils zweimal. In diesem Prüfungsteil darf auch ein zweisprachiges Wörterbuch (in Printform) verwendet werden. Nutze es in den Textpausen. Wenn der Text abgespielt wird, solltest du dich jedoch nur auf das Hören konzentrieren. Beachte, dass du auch im Teil A bei Rechtschreibfehlern keine Punkte bekommst (Ausnahmen gelten für Schüler*innen mit Lese-/Rechtschreibschwäche). Verwende zur Überprüfung der Rechtschreibung im Zweifelsfall das Wörterbuch.*

Task 1

- 1 Receptionist: Hello and welcome to Rotorua Youth Hostel. How can I help you?
Tom: Hi, we are the Kennedys. We'd like to check in, please. Here's our booking number – 364 524. We booked a double room online.
Receptionist: Yes, here it is. Tom and Hannah Kennedy from England. You've
- 5 booked three nights including breakfast. Would you like to have your dinner here, as well?
Tom: That depends ... Do you offer vegetarian options and when is the cafeteria open in the evenings?
Receptionist: Yes, we offer three different dinner options each day. One of them is
- 10 always vegetarian, on Fridays there are even two vegetarian meals. Dinner is usually served in the cafeteria from 5 till 8.30 pm, but at the moment we're fully booked so you'll have to eat your dinner in the TV lounge, I'm afraid.
Hannah: That's fine. We're also interested in the national parks. We read about them on the internet, but would be grateful for some additional information.
- 15 Receptionist: Well, you can buy tickets to a variety of attractions and activities in the parks. There is a Maori museum and the traditional Maori village to visit. Then there is the animal farm in Rainbow Springs, where you can see Kiwi birds, our national symbol. But of course, you can also do a lot of sports activities like hiking, mountain biking, fishing and rafting, or you can go on a boat tour.
- 20 And something you shouldn't miss is the guided park tour to the natural hot pools of Hot Water Beach.
Hannah: That sounds good. But how much do the tickets cost and are there any available for tomorrow?

Tom: No, I'm here with my wife. She is waiting for me outside, I don't think she's going to be happy. This will probably ruin our holiday.
